Attendance is capped at 30 – if more students apply, student selection will be done by lottery.

Hour of Code - Dec 4th (only 1 day)

The Hour of Code takes place each year during Computer Science Education Week. It is held annually, typically in December, in recognition of the birthday (December 9, 1906) of computing pioneer Admiral Grace Murray Hopper.

Students will be able to select from a wide variety of computer science and coding activities - students should make sure to bring their own chromebook and charger.
